Bourne High School Library

Bourne High School Library

For as long as men have existed there has been fire. To primitive man, fire meant warmth, light, and life itself. Today, the primary importance of fire has diminished in our lives, but even so, many symbolic fires play a significant part in our day to day existence. Two fires especially, the light of knowledge and the spark of school spirit, are an integral part of our school life at Bourne. It is the wish of the Canal Currents staff to incorporate these symbolic fires into a theme for the 1962 CANAL CURRENTS.

Mr. Wilfred Graves

This is a time of year for constant reception of advice which is often boring and tedious. However, it can be stimulating and interesting! Educators are prone to dwell upon the fact that you have completed a prescribed amount of education, and that graduation exercises will launch you into a career which must inevitably lead to success.

Even though you have been exposed to teachers and educational philosophy for twelve years, I cannot say that you have been prepared for life, because life is a transient thing, which we live from day to day.

We have tried to stimulate the desire for success, and to outline for you its true meaning. The world about you believes, too often, that money is the criterion of success. If we have taught you correctly, we have instilled motivation. We have given you tools to enable you to exercise your capabilities and skills to the utmost. You, and you alone, must decide how to employ these tools!

We wish you the success that may bring happiness in your life. May you desire that which is good for you, and may that which is good, be your only desire.

administration . . . guidance . . .

Mr. Walter Stahura

Never before in the history of our country have so many opportunities existed for the youth of America. Everywhere there are professional and vocational opportunities, but all of them depend heavily on knowledge. The creation of new notions, the cold war, man's search into space—these and other new developments have added to the fund of information schools must teach. Never before have the challenges to education been so great. The young people of today will need a great deal of knowledge to live in the world of tomorrow. They must acquire the ability to cope with change and they must develop a basic sense of values which will help them to face the future with confidence.

There is a basic philosophy which is fundamental to the well being of all. That is the philosophy of faith; faith in the ability of ourselves and others to improve and grow; faith in the desire and capacity of human beings to work out a lasting peace; faith in spiritual and moral values; and above all, faith in the essential decency of mankind.

Mr. Remick

Mr. Gray

Mr. Jahn Gray, guidance director for the Juniors and Seniors, spends endless hours helping students become the leaders of tomorrow.

His unlimited supply of booklets, career tapes, and advice is one of the main factors in helping the seniors decide their futures.

The guidance advisor for the Freshmen and Sophomores is Mr. E. Bruce Remick. Through his excellent advice and help, Baurne's new freshmen learn the high school ropes well and quickly.

reading . . . art . . .

Mr. Francis

The art club, under the direction of Mrs. Irene Walker, has created additional art activity for those students to whom art represents a future, has nurtured a basic understanding and appreciation of art, and has familiarized students with the various styles of painting, sculpture and architecture.

With Mr. James Francis as instructor, the newly incorporated reading program has provided a much needed service in both remedial and developmental reading skills.

Mrs. Walker

"No, you don't seem to be running a fever. Why don't I give you an aspirin and you go on back to class . . . well, an aspirin will take care of a headache, too . . . and a stomachache!"

Our nurse's office is a busy place. For weeks on end Freshmen physicals are given. After this first hectic rush the Health Room settles down to a steadier pace. Mrs. Stowell and Dr. Krackower minister to the daily run of minor ailments — headaches, flu, and minor sprains. They must also be prepared to help in case of any emergency which may arise at Bourne.

office workers . . . health . . . janitors . . .

The secretaries in both of Bourne's main offices have a difficult and often trying job. With phones ringing and students running in and out on missions of great importance to someone, the secretaries must still manage to find the time to keep up on their regular work and complete any special work which comes in. Every day notices must be typed up, mimeographed and ready for the office girls to take from class to class fairly early in the school day. The buzzing of the "squawk-box" creates no end of untimely interruptions. Absences must be checked and mail sorted, answered and filed. With all the work Bourne's secretaries must do we all agree they deserve any coffee breaks they can find the time to take.

cafeteria.

As the minute hand of the clock approaches 11:13 AM a strange stillness invades half the classrooms of Bourne. Teachers and students alike store hungrily at the creeping hand. The clock ticks, the bell rings and the rush is on. Waiting to receive the hungry hoard and oppose it with hot lunches and ice cream is the patient and courageous cafeteria staff. Saved from starvation and filled with food that even the gourmets of the student body grudgingly admit is "O.K.", the first shift returns to class to make way for the next one.

Familiar figures in the halls of Bourne, our custodians can be depended on to fix anything from radiators addicted to extremes of hot or cold to lockers that have had a little too much paper stuffed under the locks. Known to both the faculty and students by their nicknames, Nick, Ben, Red, Peter and Rem deserve a vote of thanks for keeping our school in a condition in which we can all take pride.

Class of 1963

The election of class officers sparked the first business of the year for the junior class. Jim Kelley was elected President with Steve Poage securing the Vice-Presidency. Beverly Harris took the pen as Secretary and Carol Tripp was made Treasurer.

The sale of Christmas candy before Christmas, along with a healthy contribution from the former Sophomore newspaper, boosted the financial status of the junior class considerably.

With the coming of the Junior Prom, involving long preparations from many committees, there is plenty of activity in this year's Junior Class.

Class of 1963

What? The bell?

Class of 1964

The Sophomore class had a busy year. Most of the class efforts were concentrated on raising money for the "63" Prom.

Their biggest social event was the traditional fall dance sponsored every year by the sophomores. It was called the "Pumpkin Prom", thanks to the brain-burning efforts of Walt Rogers, the class president. Vice-president Mike Sweeney, along with Nancy Tassinari, class secretary, could usually be found thinking up new money-making ideas in the home room of Miss Fabisak, class advisor. Harriette Converse, class treasurer, was kept busy counting the money and always prophesying, "We'll never make $1000."

During basketball season, the class sold refreshments. Toward the end of the year, an all-out drive to collect class dues was begun under the direction of Student Council representatives Sandie Hill, Becky Gray and Bruce Haskins.

In a word, 1961-62 found the class of '64 well on its way to successful junior and senior years, which, the sophomores feel, will be a lot of work and a lot of fun.

W. Rogers, president; N. Tassinari, secretary; M. Sweeney, vice-president; H. Converse, Treasurer.

The newly arrived freshman class from the Bourne Junior High and the Otis Junior High are very happy to be the first class "living" in Bourne High School for all four years.

The first real problem any class faces is the situation of a non-existent bank account. To remedy this state of affairs, the freshmen eagerly went on a magazine drive. Happily, they were the first class to do so well in a project of this nature. Don't ever think that the freshmen are bragging when they claim to be the largest and richest class.

Keep your eyes on the book Mr. Gauld!

What's behind the purse?

At Bourne the Light of knowledge plays an important part, but equally important is the spark of fun and laughter which accompanys it. The courses are hard, and five subjects are required each year.

Despite all the work a fairly heavy schedule entails, there is still enough time for quick chatter in the halls and occasionally the sly passing of some important note from desk to desk.

It would make o lovely decarative stitch, but this is a seam.

"Irish tea," anyone?

Let's go, school's out!

Gosh darn, I would get stuck here for detention.

The front page, not the funnies.

I'll talk to you later, she's standing right in front of me.

Louder, Mrs. Larson, these French topes sound like o bunch of gibberish.

Use your eyes, whot do you think this is?

I didn't meon it, now put down that hommer!

Well, Barbara . . .

Get out of the way, Harry.

That was the bell . . . ahem . . . the bell has rung!

Now wait a minute!

Don't both talk at once.

T.G.I.F.

No cutting across the grass.

activities

"Oops, we should have knocked!"

Julie's ranting and raving . . . Judy's disappearing acts . . . Polly's ups and downs . . . Harry's developing in fix . . . Johnny's perpetual jokes . . . Danny's loud complaints, Mary's race against deadlines . . . Mr. Hanigan's frustration with it all . . . These are but a few of the memories shared by the members of the CANAL CURRENTS staff. Underlying it all was the continual race against time, which sometimes, was lost. However, the unfailing spirit of the staff members prevailed and when it was over, they felt the joyous experience of having made a year book.

"Now let's get down to business."

Junior-Senior
Chorus

The one-hundred-and-seventy-five voice chorus of the freshmen and sophomore classes can be heard harmonizing during the first special period on Thursdays. Then the dissident signal to change classes echoes through the corridors and the ninety-five sopranos, altos, and basses of the junior-senior chorus file into the cafeteria for their rehearsal. Under the direction of Mr. Carleton Thorne and with the piano accompaniment of Mr. Richard Ormerod, the two choruses—sometimes together, sometimes separately—participate in a variety of school programs, such as National Honor Society inductions, Graduation exercises, Baccalaureate, and the Spring concert. In addition they have traveled to Boston each December for four years to perform at the Boston Christmas Festival, and some of the chorus members represent Baurne at the annual Cape Cod Music Festival.

At Bourne

On Thursday evenings one finds Mr. Thorne, Supervisor of Music at Bourne, or a student director conducting the sixty-five member Shawme Band, which has more than doubled in the last six years. This enthusiastic group adds color and pep to football games, pep rallies, parades, concerts, and school assemblies. Officers this year are Barbara Jacobs, president; Edward Robinson, vice-president; Jacquelin Rideout, secretary; and Diane McKenzie, treasurer.

The Shawme Orchestra's twenty-five Bourne and Sandwich members rehearse on Monday evenings under the direction of Mr. Thorne. They perform in both Bourne and Sandwich for the senior class plays and graduation exercises, as well as for the annual Spring Concert and Bourne Senior Class Night. The orchestra's repertoire ranges from classical selections to symphonic paraphrases of semi-popular numbers.

Band Members: R. Anderson, E. Atherton, S. Baillie, B. Bassett, B. Bryant, S. Camick, P. Crawley, B. Cruse, D. Dunaway, J. Gable, D. Gibbs, B. Grindrad, B. J. Hemmerley, B. Jacobs, K. Johnson, C. An artist's pallet symbolizes the qualities of creativity, craftsmanship, perception and interpretation. These are the points stressed in Mrs. Irene Walker's art classes, which are held during the first (for juniors and seniors) and second (for freshmen and sophomores) special periods on Thursday. This year the students worked mainly in watercolor and stencils, though they did other types of art work, such as lettering. The budding artists take pride in their work and spent a long time on their projects, usually three or four lessons, sometimes longer. Mrs. Walker places special emphasis on originality; as one student put it, "We're never allowed to copy anything."

French Club

One of the most active groups at Baurne has been the French Club. Under the guidance of Mrs. Elinar Larsen the eager members made plans for the arrival of a most distinguished guest. Monsieur Gaston Leclerc, vice-consul of the French Consulate in Boston, lectured French and Latin students on France today. This was the high point in the entire history of the French Club.

In February new officers were elected. Beverli Peters, newly-chosen president, supervised a successful Bake Sale in March at the First National Supermarket in Buzzards Bay. Under her leadership the forthcoming year should be even more interesting and rewarding for the members of the French Club.

. . . National Honor Society

The James F. Peebles chapter of the National Honor Society is composed of those Bourne High School students whom the faculty feel best combine the attributes of Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service.

The Honor Society inductions, one in the Winter for Seniors and one in the spring for Juniors, are, outside of graduation, the most formal and lovely ceremonies at Bourne. After several weeks of careful preparation under the direction of Mrs. Kyrrouz, the Honor Society advisor, the members of the Honor Society file slowly onto the stage in long black robes. The traditional candle of knowledge is used to light the smaller candles at the four stations of Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service. President Bill Cruse then inducts the lucky new members into the Honor Society.

The annual Christmas dance, "Sparkle Spin", and the bi-weekly record hops have highlighted the many activities of Bourne's Code Club. Since the club is sponsored by the Bourne Rotary Club, however, its primary purpose is service. This, the girls have amply provided, by taking orphan children to Edaville during Christmas vacation, by donating the money from the Christmas dance to needy children and by acting as nurses' aids in various hospitals in the area. The success of the club has been largely due to the unselfish devotion of Rotary advisor Mrs. Arthur Kemp. The faculty advisor for the group is Miss Mary Jane Fabisak.

Future Homemakers Of America

The Future Homemakers of America of Baurne is a chapter of the national organization of high school girls who are studying homemaking. The primary aim of the group is to improve home and community living. To finance their new chapter the girls sold refreshments at football games; with these proceeds they adopted a needy family in New Bedford to whom they gave gifts and a dinner at Christmas. The girls also sponsored the school Valentine dance, "Twist Around the Valentine", and hope to send a delegate to the national convention at Salt Lake City this summer.

Ken, Mike, Bruce, and Paul examine a radio circuit.

The Radio Club is a new addition to the school this year. The purpose of the club is to advance the art of radio and to encourage the neophyte (that is, the learner) to get his government license.

There are four licensed members to date: Mike Marshall (call number, K1RNA), Paul Baillie (K1SWT), Bruce Selig (KN1RRF/K1RRF), and Ken Churbuck (KN1TCD/K1TCD).

The club hopes to establish a radio station for the use of the licensed members.

The teams provide the entertainment of games, but it is up to the members of the Athletic Association to see that all runs smoothly. Under the supervision of Mr. Leo Manning, the girls perform certain duties at the football and basketball games, such as collecting and selling tickets, setting up the cake machine, and taking care of the refreshment stand.

Though a small group, the A.A.'s function in Bourne's athletic program is actually indispensable.

Tessie Prete and Sharan Adams are two of the many main office workers.

In the first of the year a call was put out for girls who would be willing to work in the main office, guidance office and the library during their free periods. Those girls who volunteered their time were put to work running errands, watching the library desk, and filing college catalogues. They now efficiently perform the little time consuming tasks Bourne's staff finds it difficult to accomplish.

Have you got WMGM?

Pep Squad

Precision drill for a pep rally

This year marked the beginning of Bourne's Pep Squad. Twenty-seven girls formed the group, voting to buy uniforms at their own expense. The uniforms were late in coming, but arrived in time for the Thanksgiving pep rally, one of several which Pep Squad members enlivened by marching and performing original skits. The girls also marched in the Christmas parade in Hyannis, along with other Bourne groups. All told, the new Pep Squad proved a valuable organization which helped to gain student support for the teams and act as a link between the students and the cheerleaders.

The Science Fair on March 24 was the largest of the three annual fairs which have been held at Baurne. Thanks to the help and hard work of Baurne's science teachers, Mr. Allen, Mr. Ormerod, and Mr. Wilbur, as well as the teachers from the Baurne junior high and grammar schools, over 500 exhibits were on display in the science labs and the auditorium. Hundreds of people wandered through the exhibits from three o'clock in the afternoon to eight o'clock at night, with the largest crowds at about four-thirty and seven o'clock.

Cooch Lucien Bochond—football, basketball, and baseball

Cooch William Lovin—junior varsity football and basketball

Lucky Somerset tackler manages to catch Bobby Hardin but fails to stop him from making the first down.

Looking back on the season, Bourne's 4-4-1 record is clearly the best one in many campaigns.

Off double sessions for the first time in three years and able to practice in the afternoon, the Conolmen experienced their best season in many years. The Purple Wave first indicated that it was better than overage in the pre-season Jomboree when it more than held its own against powerful Folmouth.

In the opening tilt, the Conolmen shut out surprisingly good Provincetown club 12-0. In the following weeks clash with always tough Lawrence High of Folmouth, the club lost a heartbreaking 22-16 decision that was hard fought until the final gun was sounded. A week later the Purple Wave rebounded to crush a hopeless Somerset Eleven 26-0.

The Conolmen's next encounter was with brand-new but powerful Old Rochester Regional High school who made the going rough before bowing 8-0 to Bourne.

Another seven days and the Conolmen returned to their home turf to take on traditional arch-rival Dennis-Yarmouth Regional High and buried the invaders 14-6. The roof fell in their next encounter when future league champion Barnstable clobbered them 30-0. The Undoubted Conolmen bounced back to tangle with rugged Cose High of Swonseo, beaten only once in the entire season, and tied the host team a bitterly contested 0-0 tilt. An inspired Dighton-Rehobeth Regional Eleven staged an exciting 8-0 upset over the favored Canolmen in the final seconds of a hard fought battle.

When Thanksgiving finally rolled around, despite adverse weather conditions a record crowd turned out to view the annual Turkey Day grid classic. The first half saw flashy Worham full-back Lenny Lopes run wild and outclass the Conolmen. Halftime score was 20-0. In the second quarter the Bourne Eleven took the field to hold Lopes to minus yardage and demonstrate real offensive ability. However, they were unable to score and the Gotesmen took the day.

Just made it! Bob Corrodi stumbles into end zone to score against Somerset.

The '61 Canelmen were for the most part o senior club, and much credit must be given to those seniors who made the team click.

Holding down the right guard slot was tough little lineman Ray Doucette who did a lot to hold the club together and was the undisputed leader of the linemen.

Big John Anderson, oggressively playing at defensive guard or linebocker, was the spearhead of the purple defensive unit, "the Bondits."

Bourne's oll-round lineman was rugged Ken Wicklund who was praficient at defensive tackle, defensive end and offensive center.

Doing outstanding work at left guard until injuries took him out of action after six games was hord-blocking Ken Thompson.

A big mon in the front line was big tackle George Tinker who opened holes on the left side.

Ed Robinson stood out on the "Bondits" for his oggressive, defensive ploy ot tackle.

Bod news in the end slot was quick and lonky poss catcher Doryl Diotte.

Speedy Bab Hordin was a stondout at right halfback. He was also second high scorer in the club this year.

Will Narris served as an all-round bockfield mon, shawing himself more than copoble ot either the halfback or the fullback positian.

Baurne's powermon in the backfield was hord-hitting fullback Ed Kroboth who chalked up the extra paints when needed.

A post-season workout for Bourne's big linemen.

There they go! Lenny Lopes and blockers stort end sweep in Wareham Game.

Fullback Ed Krabath drags tackler for a few valuable yards in Somerset game.

The past-season selections for the Cape Cod Standard Times All-Cape team found only one Canalman on the first team. That was glue-fingered right end Jahn Tassinari who was outstanding all year for his infallible pass catching, hard running, and good blocking on offense and his general hustle on defense.

Named to the second team were hard charging linemen right tackle Dan Kemp and right guard Jim Rabarn, who together with end Jahn Tassinari, opened up holes in the right side of the line. Flashy quarterback Bob Carradi, who ran the club all season and was number five on the Cape in scoring with forty points to his credit, was named to the All-Cape second team.

CANALMEN HAVE WINNING SEASON

Although hurt somewhat by graduation losses, the 1962 edition of the Bourne Canalmen combined height and finesse to put together a winning season. After a poor initial showing at the Preview, the Canalmen opened strong, winning three straight from Chatham, Nauset, and Provincetown. Then things began to look bad as they suffered a bad defeat at the hands of arch-rival Dennis-Yarmouth and Falmouth. The Canalmen bounced back to post victories over Sandwich and Barnstable before dropping another to Harwich. Starting around the loop again the Purple Wave downed Chatham and Nauset but lost the next match in Provincetown's undersized gym. The next game was one of the Canalmen's finest though toughest losses. Playing without the service of stellar guard Bob Corradi, they lost in the closing seconds to powerful D-Y. After a loss to Falmouth and a win over Sandwich, the Canalmen plastered Barnstable. On their final outing against Harwich the Canalmen made a hard fought but unsuccessful effort to qualify for the Cape Cod Principal's Tournament.

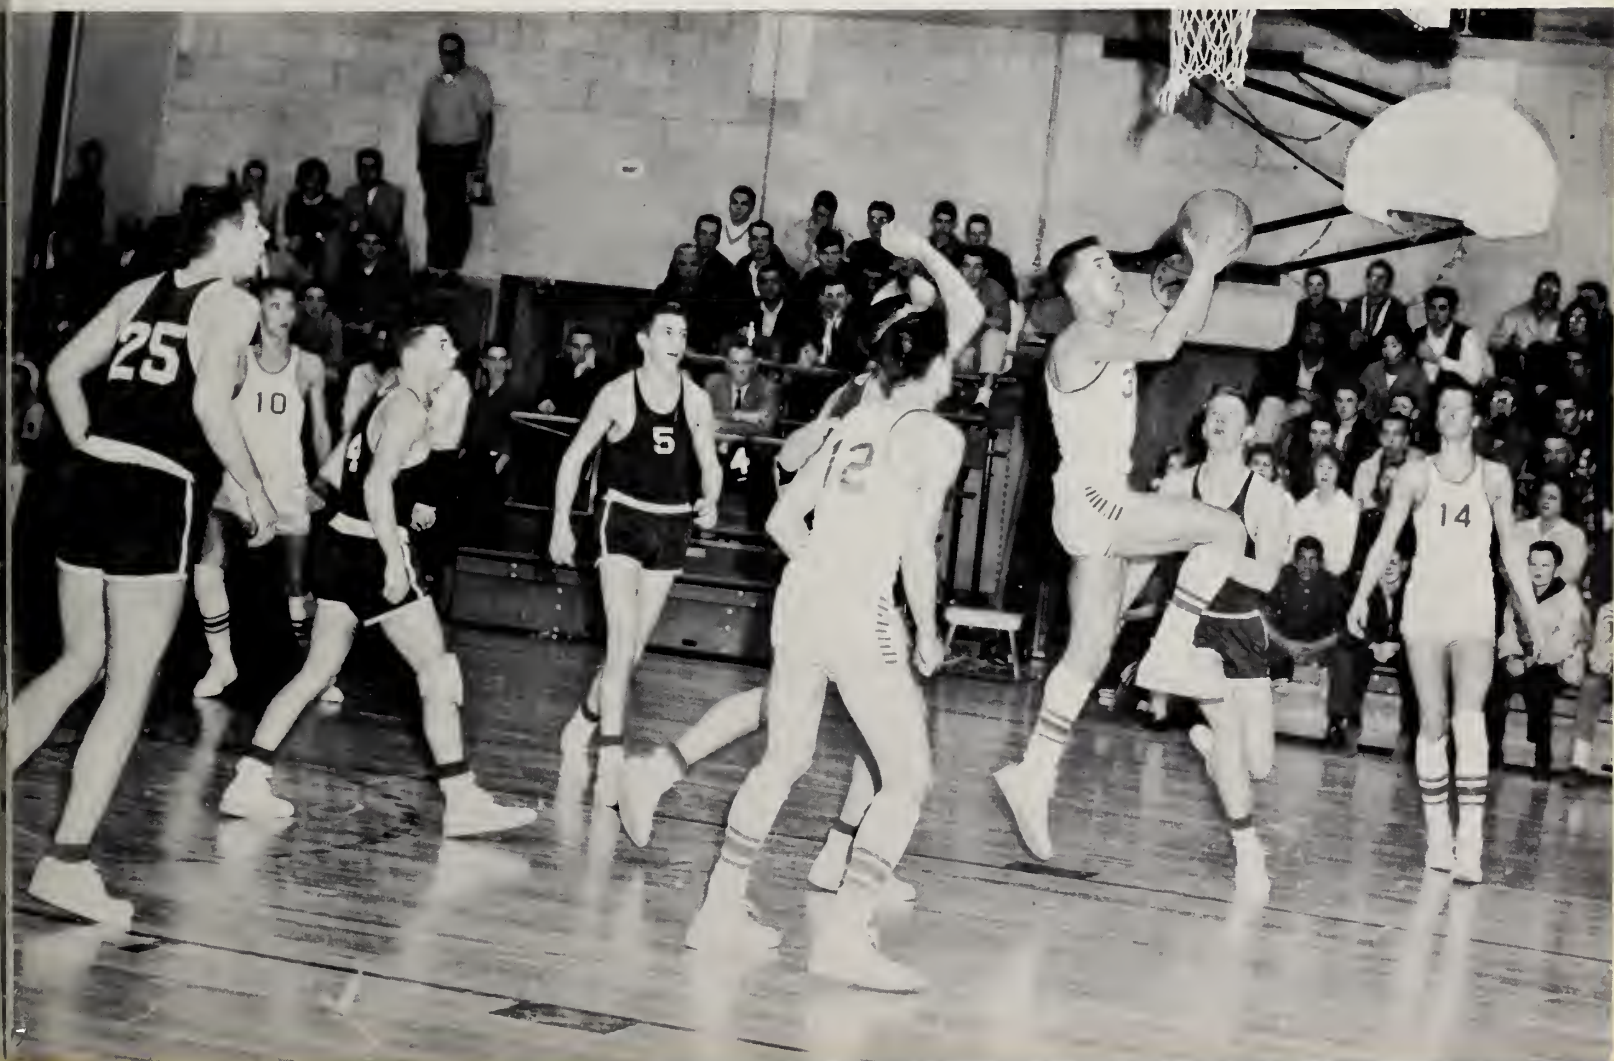

The post-season Cape Cod Standard Times All-Cape selections found only one Canalman on the first team. This lone Canalman was flashy guard, Bob Corradi, who was the sparkplug of the team, third high scorer on the Cape, and a stand-out for his superb playmaking, as well as for his sterling defensive action.

High on the list for the Canalmen was sharpshooting senior Brian Van-Auken who regularly hit double figures to provide a great amount of the scoring punch.

Below: Brian Van Auken makes perfect drive through D-Y defense for score.

High jumpers Tassinari and Maare black out Sandwich player going far a rebound.

Will it go? Tassinari and Finnel watch for ball to drop at Falmouth gym.

Junior Billy O'Neil was outstanding with his dextrous playing and frequent double figure performances.

Senior Daryl Diotte provided the rebounding power for the Canalmen by dominating the boards on both offense and defense. Junior forward Richard "Ecky" Eckstrom also helped in controlling the boards as well as in adding frequent baskets to rattle up the score.

Senior John Tassinari hustled to become Bourne's top defensive player.

Steve Poage was a valuable asset for his all-round ability.

Varsity Club members—left to right: B. Carradi, W. Harding, D. Kemp, W. Rogers, R. Dauchette, B. Hardin, J. Anderson, B. Van Auker, B. O'Neil, K. Wicklund, K. Thompson, G.

Tinker, R. Eckstrom, E. Robinson, D. Diotte, R. Gavazza, Coach Bachand, W. Norris, B. Murphy, A. Worcester. Absent were J. Tassinari, S. Poage, J. Kelly, W. Maare.

The first Bourne Varsity Club was formed in May 1961 under the direction of Coach Bachand. Boys who have lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track are eligible for membership.

Desiring jackets in addition to their sweaters, the boys contributed half the cost of the jackets themselves and earned the remainder by a successful sale of refreshments at the annual Town Meeting and by sponsoring a basketball game. The sports epic consisted of a fray between the Bourne Teachers and Ernie's Clippers. The latter won the heated contest by a margin of one point.

She'll never come down!

Two's company; three's o crowd.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Although plagued with a below average season, the distaff side of the 1962 Canalmen, under the able coaching of Mrs. Harvey, distinguished themselves with their valiant efforts, undying spirit and consistent sportsmanship while playing a rugged 10 game schedule against Chatham, Yarmouth, Falmouth, Sandwich, Barnstable, and Harwich.

Hopes for next year are high as nine of the starting 11 will return including high-scorer Nancy Tassinari, a sophomore this year. Also outstanding in the club were Senior scoring ace, Beci Brailey, Senior Kathy Robbins, Sophomore Linda Hadley, and Sophomore Vivian Rigazio. They posted wins against Chatham, Falmouth, and Barnstable.

"Ta be or nat ta be."

Girls' Varsity

Black that kick!

Although the Jay-Vee team was not as successful as we may have liked, they fought vigorously throughout the year. Led by Diane McKenzie and Jean Morway, the team was able to acquire much experience and show considerable promise for the Varsity. The rugged competition of their game loop against Yarmouth, Falmouth, Sandwich, and Barnstable produced a final 3-5 record.

Girls' Junior Varsity

Standing: S. Johnson, S. Alexander, S. Parker, L. Britto, B. Tomlenson, E. McCann, E. Colgan.
Kneeling: D. McKenzie, A. Prete, J. Morway, S. Duffy, P. Butler, S. Murphy.

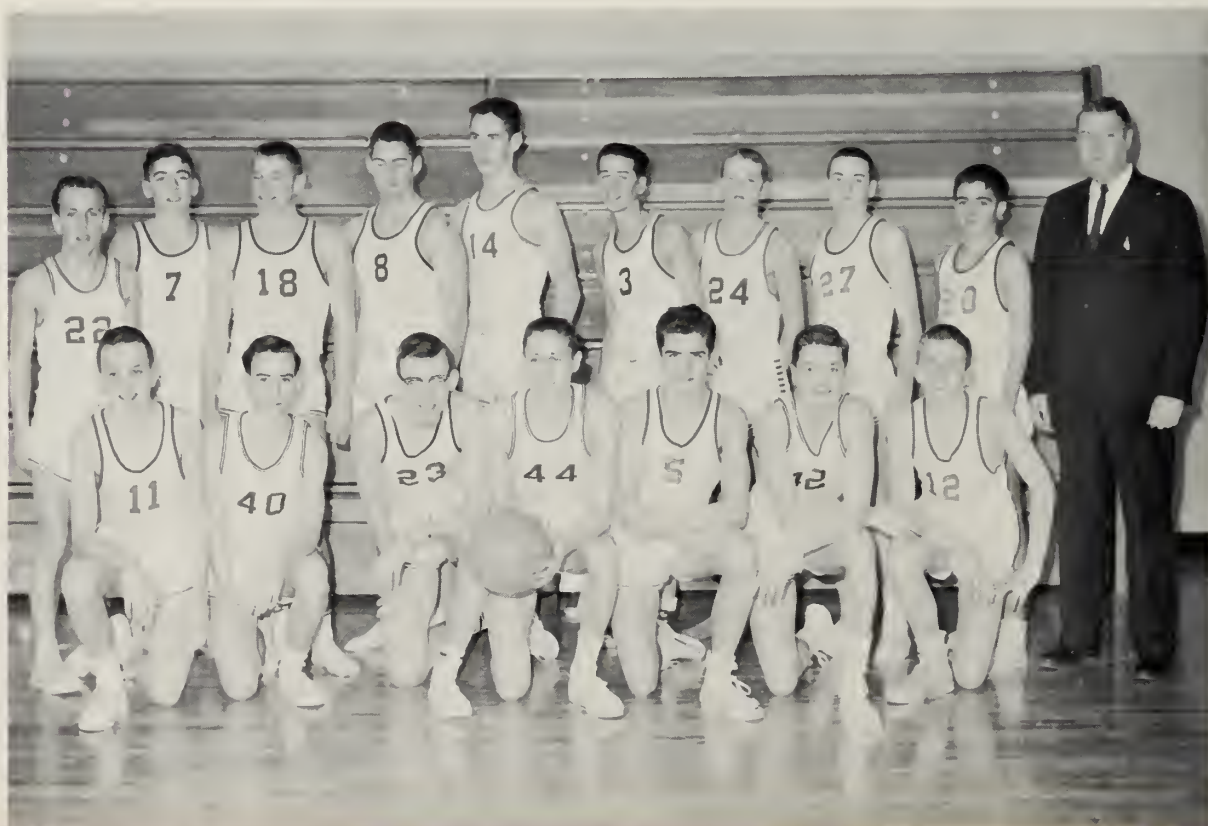

The Junior Varsity under Coach Lavin was the best in Bourne High History. The rebounds and shots of Walt Rodgers, Wedge Sweeney, and John Miller, as well as hustling play-making by Mike Sweeney and Kim Olsen, aided flashy high-scorer Mario Rigazzio in posting an amazing 15-1 record in Cape competition.

Boys' Junior Varsity

What do you think you're doing?

Standing: M. Sweeney, D. Butler, K. Olsen, W. Sweeney, R. Frazier, M. Rigazio, M. Cahaan, S. Gailey, B. Ehman, Coach Lavin. Kneeling: P. Driscall, R. Murphy, J. Miller, W. Rogers, D. Jarvis, P. McComisky, M. Kiniry.

Ask Any Girl

BOURNE HIGH, APRIL 28 — From the opening rumble of the Empire State Train to the finale, a blissful "Ask any Woman", last night's stage production of Christopher Sergle's comedy, "Ask Any Girl" was a delightful success. The able direction of S. W. Crocker assisted by Lucy Mitchell and Judy Conlon blended the somewhat unexpected talents of seventeen seniors into a smooth but lively three act presentation generously sprinkled with the laughter and applause of a capacity audience.

"You know me. I'll agree to anything over strowberry cheese coke."

"She got a job in o foncy office, and now she's marrying the boss. Isn't that the woy it always hoppins?"

Don't choke.

Miss Fabisak
and the French Consul.

a lot of things happen after school

HI!

What's this, a girl in the dark room?

Na, she didn't throw the extra copy of the test in there.

The chaperanes look a shade paler than usual, don't they?

A slow dance for a change.

Well, I say it's time for another twist.

1960 Queen, Sue Lively, presents her sister Pot with a bouquet of red roses.

To no one's surprise the football team chose Pot Lively as their Homecoming Queen.

Doryl Diotte crowns his "queen" as the 1961 Homecoming Queen.

The Homecoming Court.

Show Mr. Jones how restive we are!

"Round and 'round and up and down we go."

Corrodi and the boll went thot-a-way.

Their blocking seems so much more effective than ours.

Block it, Chuck!

The teachers' basketball game this year was an often exciting and more often hilarious game. Although the spectators were disappointed in the final score, I'm sure all the avid basketball fans learned a lot from the action on the floor — a lot of things to avoid doing. You've got our vote of confidence, however. Keep fighting and maybe next year . . .

Get rid of those butts; here comes Coach.

Many students who enter and graduate from high school are remembered but for a short time. Others, however, leave a permanent mark through their devoted work on the yearbook. This book is a tribute, not only to the class of 1962, but also to those who gave so unselfishly of their time and effort.

Many others have also aided in the publication of this book. Mr. Robert Vontine of the Delmor Company and Mr. John McNomoro of Purdy's Photographers are but two.

Thanks also go to our patrons and advertisers whose donations and sincere interest in the students of Bourne High School have made this book possible.
